Q2 Commentary

US shares gained in Q2, stocks related to the artificial intelligence (AI) theme continued to perform strongly. Annual US inflation, eased slightly to 2.6% in May from 2.7% in April. The US labour market remained strong with 272,000 jobs added in May Eurozone shares moved lower in Q2. Equities fell amid uncertainty caused by the announcement of parliamentary elections in France and dwindling expectations for steep interest rate cuts. The European Central Bank cut interest rates by 25 basis points in early June. However, the scope for further cuts may be limited by sticky inflation. Annual inflation in the euro area was 2.6% in May, up from 2.4% in April. Strength in some Asian markets helped emerging market equities outperform developed markets in Q2. The quarter commenced on a disappointing note for global bond markets, spurred by renewed concerns about US inflation causing investors to reassess the timing of interest rate cuts. Later, a more conducive market environment was driven by the emergence of softer labour market conditions and encouraging news on inflation. Political risk drove idiosyncratic weakness across certain emerging markets. The S&P GSCI Commodities Index achieved a modest gain in the second quarter. Industrial metals and precious metals were the strongest components of the index. The fund recorded a return of 4.8% in Q2 2024.

Investment risks

Risks from the Sub-Fund's techniques and securities

Counterparty	Market	Liquidity	Currency
The Sub-Fund could lose money if an entity with which it does business becomes unwilling or unable to honor its commitments to the Sub-Fund.	The fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in securities markets. The value of your investment and the income from it may be affected by general economic and political factors as well as industry or company specific factors.	Certain securities could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.	Exchange rate fluctuations may negatively impact the value of investments designated in another currency. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates could result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.
