Performance fee

15% of the outperformance if the performance exceeds Hurdle Rate (Main Refinancing Operations Rate of the European Central Bank plus 0.50% per annum). The performance fee will be paid yearly if the return at the end of the performance period exceeds the Hurdle Rate. Any underperformance or loss previously incurred during the life of the Sub Fund should be recovered before a Performance Fee becomes payable. The performance fee will be calculated separately per Class of Units.

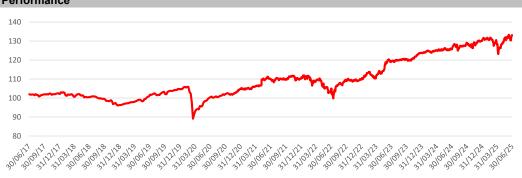

The performance fee is calculated in accordance with ESMA's guidelines on performance fees in UCITS and certain types of AIFs (34-39-992) from 1/1/2022.

Q2 Commentary

The second quarter of 2025 was marked by sharp volatility followed by a robust rebound in global markets. The quarter began with a major disruption on April 2, when the US announced larger-than-expected tariffs, triggering a 12% selloff in the S&P 500 and a 50 basis points spike in US 10-year Treasury yields. However, fears proved short-lived as the US administration paused reciprocal tariffs and initiated trade negotiations with China, stabilizing risk sentiment. Despite ongoing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, there was no material escalation, and global macroeconomic data remained resilient, supporting investor confidence across asset classes.

As volatility subsided, equities staged a powerful recovery. Developed markets equities returned +11.6% for the quarter, led by global growth stocks at +17.7%. The 'Magnificent 7' tech giants posted +18.6% price gains, outperforming the rest of the S&P 500 by 14 percentage points. Among major indices: the S&P 500 rose +10.57%, the NASDAQ 100 surged +17.75%, Euro Stoxx 50 advanced +1.05%, Nikkei 225 gained +13.67%, and the MSCI Emerging Markets Index climbed +11.02%. Sector leadership came from technology and consumer discretionary, while commodities rose on oil and metals strength. In this context, the Triton (LF) Global Balanced (Class A) recorded a return of +2.02% at the first half of 2025.

from the techniques and securities it uses to to achieve its objective. The table on the right explains how these risks relate to each other and the Outcomes to the Unitholder that could affect an investment in the Sub-	Credit	Liquidity	Derivatives (Leverage)	Currency
Fund.	The potential loss arising from the uncertainty on an issuer's ability or willingness to repay a loan or meet ootntactual obligations. This risk is heightened in a market environment, where interest rates are rising, as well as in connection with the Fund's investment grade fixed income securities.	The fund operates in a market characterized by low trade volumes and securities that may become illiquid. This results in a higher risk of losses due to reduced trading speed/efficiency and sharper price fluctuations.	The derivatives market introduces significant levels of complexity,increasing the probability of adverse gains or losses to the fund that holds derivatives. The higher sensitivity to price movements of the underlying asset can asymmetrically affect the price of a derivative that is linked to it.	Exchange rate fluctuations may negatively impact the value of investments designated in another currency. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates could result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.
Investors should also read Risk Descriptions in the Prospectus for a full description of each risk.
