Q2 Commentary
Sustainability-related disclosure The Sub Fund is categorized under article 6 of SFDR. For further information, please refer to the relevant sections of the prospectus.		During the first half of 2026, the Greek equity market rebounded strongly following the volatility triggered by geopolitical tensions at the beginning of the year. The de-escalation of tensions and the end of hostilities in the Middle East contributed to an improvement in global investor sentiment and a renewed appetite for risk. The ASE General Index delivered a +15.99% return, while the FTSE Banks Index outperformed with gains of +20.52%, confirming continued investor confidence in the outlook for the Greek banking sector. Meanwhile, MSCI confirmed Greece's reclassification to Developed Market status, effective with the May 2027 Index Review, while similar developments from STOXX and FTSE Russell further enhance the international profile of the Greek capital market. In addition, the equity capital raisings by ADMIE, PPC, and GEK TERNA are expected to support significant investments in energy infrastructure and strategic projects, strengthening the country's productive capacity and supporting GDP growth momentum. These investments are also expected to benefit the banking sector through stronger credit demand and the financing of large-scale projects. Triton (LF) Greek Equity (Class A) Fund generated a return of +21.27%, outperforming its benchmark by +5.28 percentage points.

Investment risks

Risks from the Sub-Fund's techniques and securities
Market	Liquidity	Derivatives (Leverage)	Concentration
The fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in securities markets. The value of your investment and the income from it may be affected by general economic and political factors as well as industry or company specific factors.	The fund operates in a market characterized by low trade volumes and securities that may become illiquid. This results in a higher risk of losses due to reduced trading speed/efficiency and sharper price fluctuations.	The derivatives market introduces significant levels of complexity, increasing the probability of adverse gains or losses to the fund that holds derivatives. The higher sensitivity to price movements of the underlying asset can asymmetrically affect the price of a derivative that is linked to it.	Mutual funds with concentrated investment policy may be exposed to higher risk, higher volatility and lower liquidity from mutual funds with less concentrated portfolio.

TRITON (LF) GREEK EQUITY IS A SUBFUND OF 20UGS (UCITS) FUNDS, A SICAV REGISTERED UNDER PART I OF THE LUXEMBOURG LAW ON COLLECTIVE INVESTMENT UNDERTAKINGS (UCITS-IV) OF DECEMBER 17, 2010
